

Weather leaves roads hazardous

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Although the Quad-City area escaped the projected four to six inches of snow initially forecast for Sunday night, a blanket of snow will cover the area for the next few days. Saturday night's sleet and rain mixture created problems for early morning drivers on Sunday, with side streets, driveways and parking lots covered with an icy glaze. Another ice storm Sunday night caused additional problems for motorists and pedestrians this morning.

MADISON SCHOOLS opened an hour late, but other Quad-City area schools opened on time, sources said. Twenty-four weekend traffic accidents were reported in Granite City, mostly occurring Saturday night and Sunday. Only two of the accidents resulted in injuries to drivers or passengers, it was noted.

Numerous "fender bender" type mishaps were reported Saturday night and Sunday in the outlying areas, especially on secondary roads, according to the Illinois State Police.

SNOW STARTED falling at 8:30 a.m. today with a projection by the National Weather Service of a two- to four-inch accumulation. The snowfall will be accompanied by 15 mph winds, gusting up to 30 mph. The 90 percent chance of snow which was predicted for today hit the mark early in the day and there is a 60 percent chance of more snow arriving tonight.

Overnight temperatures will fall to a low mark of between 10 and 15 degrees, the weather service said.

STREET DEPARTMENT crews were called out Saturday evening and many worked through the night, it was learned. Road crews were spreading salt this morning in the Granite City area.

Highways in the northern section of the bi-state metropolitan region appeared to be hardest hit by Saturday night's freezing rain, with more than three dozen early evening accidents reported to police authorities in Missouri.

Sunday's above freezing temperatures, which reached 34 degrees in Granite City about 4 p.m., plus intermittent rain for some hours, helped to melt much of the ice from sidewalks and streets, but a new layer formed by this morning.

THE FORECAST offers little hope for a thaw this week as cold temperatures are predicted through Friday with additional snow possible Wednesday and Thursday.

New demolition plan is announced

Madison acting Mayor Thomas Gordon announced a new program in his city that will deal with structures heavily damaged by fire or other causes.

The first demolition site and the backdrop for Gordon's announcement was at 904 Jefferson St. in West Madison. The two-story multi-family dwelling, vacant for at least four years, according to city officials, was heavily damaged by fire early last week and was deemed hazardous to the public by both Madison Fire Chief Michael Macek and Madison Building Inspector John Dutko.

"RATHER THAN wait for the lengthy condemnation proceedings, we are taking the initiative to raze these structures for the good and safety of the public," Gordon said.

Both Macek and Dutko have written letters to the mayor and city council strongly recommending that the building be razed. The letters and the new demolition program will be discussed at Tuesday night's city council meeting.

Simon urges job diversity

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

With more than 1,000 crowding in to hear his answers at a "town meeting" Friday afternoon, new U.S. Senator Paul Simon said a more diversified job base is Granite City's chief need.

Simon added that the federal budget deficit is the nation's chief problem, with the balance-of-trade deficit also imperiling the outlook for taxpayers, workers and their descendants.

MADISON COUNTY deserves credit for whatever he accomplishes at the state and national levels because it was here he was first elected as a legislator at the age of 25 three decades ago. Simon asserted.

Agreeing with a political opponent in the audience that he is a "big spender" in aiding education and senior citizens, the former lieutenant governor cited past votes in Springfield and Washington which helped save hundreds of billions of dollars.

"If all of my votes had carried, we would not have the huge federal deficit we face today," he told the enthusiastic gathering.

With 28 applicants trimmed to six finalists, the Granite City Board of Education will conduct interviews this month to help choose its next superintendent of schools.

Of the six men recommended by a three-member Illinois Association of School Boards search committee, five are superintendents and one is a former superintendent who serves as an educational consultant.

THREE ARE FROM Illinois and three are from other states. Committee Chairman Richard Wisner of Springfield said after a nearly three-hour conference with the school board. Under the IASB panel's procedural rules, it is leaving the evaluation of an internal candidate up to the board.

Further describing the six finalists, the committee said five have doctorates and one has a specialist degree.

Of the 28 men who completed applications—no women applied—16 currently reside in Illinois and 12 are from outside Illinois, working in eight other states.

A DESCRIPTION of the 28 disclosed that 19 have doctoral degrees, eight are educational specialists and one has a master degree with additional credits.

Emphasis was placed on attracting candidates with considerable experience, and the 28 included 21 who presently are superintendents or have been superintendents, the committee said.

Current plans call for a series of personnel-related board meetings Feb. 12, 16, 17, 18 and 23 as well as a Policy Committee school policy review session at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 11 and a regular board meeting at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 19.

CONFIDENTIALITY is to be maintained until the board has narrowed its choice. (Continued on Page 5)

Greg Terrell film debut on network TV tonight

Greg Terrell, 27, Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill H. Terrell of Granite City, is featured in the motion picture, "Two Fathers' Justice," from 8 to 10 tonight on NBC-TV and Channel 5.

"Two teenagers brutally slain. Two families shattered by grief. Two killers set free. Two men obsessed." So go advertisements for the world premier event.

IN TONIGHT'S PLOT, actor Robert Conrad plays an unemployed steelworker with an engaged daughter.

Actor George Hamilton portrays a multimillionaire businessman from Boston whose son, played by Terrell, is the fiancé of Conrad's daughter.

Hamilton and Conrad form an uneasy alliance to seek the "two fathers' justice," by launching a raid on a Caribbean hideout to nab the killers of their children.

COMPLETED IN 1985 as a TV movie, the production is described in TV Guide by critic Judith Crist as "diverting" although the plot is seen as somewhat predictable.

She notes that Conrad and Hamilton team up to "bring back alive" two men who murdered their daughter and son on the eve of the planned wedding.

She adds that the two killers have "jumped bail and are non-extraditable in a tropical stronghold."

FROM THE TERRELL family's viewpoint, the nationwide impact is expected to enhance the former Granite City's budding film career—even though his "death" occurs about one-third of the way through the script.

"Two Fathers' Justice" was directed by Conrad and Rod Holcomb and written by David Kinghorn.

Terrell, a former theology student and television news announcer, did extensive photographic modeling of clothes and products before being offered television dramatic roles and then the movie assignment.

The 1975 Granite City high school graduate later graduated from the University of Missouri at Columbia and then studied in San Francisco.

THE BID for the northern portion of the I-255 work is for two miles of grading for future pavement, the processing of lime-modified soil, sand blankets, drains and a pump station and a double box culvert (Continued on Page 5)

Veteran hiring program extended to September 1

The Veterans' Administration has announced that the Emergency Veterans' Job Training Act has been extended and employers have until Sept. 1 to place an eligible veteran in an approved job training program. Grady Horton, director of the VA regional office in Chicago, said that any veteran wishing to apply for this program must make initial application to the Veterans' Administration on or before Feb. 28. Applications for renewal of eligibility from qualified veterans will be accepted beyond this date.

Horton said this program "provides an incentive to employers to hire and train unemployed veterans by offering limited reimbursement."

The Veterans Administration will pay the employer 50 percent of the starting hourly rate of pay, not to exceed nine or 15 months. The dollar amount cannot exceed $10,000. He said funds are available for the program and that employers can take advantage of its extension by contacting the veterans' employment representative at their nearest Job Service office. Phone numbers may be found in telephone directories under State Government Offices.

Also, additional information is available to employers and veterans from the Veterans' Administration. The phone number, for local calls is 1-314-663-3510. A toll-free number for those outside the metropolitan area is 1-800-972-6327.

Mammography testing receives top priority

The Rev. Don F. Pierson, Public Information officer of the American Cancer Society, today announced that the Quad-City Unit will join in a statewide effort to educate Illinois women on the importance of the screening procedure, mammography. Mammography is a special, low-dose x-ray which can reveal a breast cancer in its earliest stages, often when it is no larger than a freckle.

In announcing the priority program, Rev. Pierson, noted that the ACS is committed to informing the public about this screening tool because "it can literally save lives. Mammography is a vastly under utilized tool." He went on to point out that "an estimated 2 million women in Illinois alone are failing to take advantage of this procedure, which could save their lives."

As part of this full-scale campaign throughout the fall, the ACS will offer programs for the public, professionals and the media, which will include: the film entitled "Important News - Mammography"; the leaflet "Important News That May Save Your Life" and striking visuals which illustrate the enormous potential of a relatively simple procedure. In a national study completed last year, mammography detected nearly 90 percent of the 3,557 cancers uncovered among 280,000 women between the ages of 35 and 74. Most of the mammography-discovered cancers in this project "were very early cancers, curable in up to 90 percent of cases. In contrast, 56 percent of cancers found were detected by physical breast examination," Rev. Pierson added.

"What mammography means for women," concluded Rev. Pierson, "is that they have a procedure available to them which can detect breast cancer years before they or their doctors can feel it - when it is still localized. This early detection make it possible to remove the cancer before it spreads. Moreover mammography, properly utilized, offers no threat of causing cancer. Mammography can save lives. For further information on mammography, interested persons are advised to contact local unit chairman area office of the American Cancer Society at 345-7911.

Job growth goal of 'Build Illinois'

Jobs are what Illinoisans need, and one way to attract them is to "build Illinois" by "renewing and strengthening our economy and the infrastructure that supports it."

This was the message of Governor James R. Thompson in his annual State of the State address last week to Illinois legislators. He outlined a five-year, $2.3 billion development plan which he said can improve long-term prospects for achieving prosperity.

SECURING JOBS for Illinois citizens has been the highest priority since his first day in office eight years ago, the governor said.

"But during that time the economic environment in the state and across the nation has undergone enormous change."

"Some of the factors affecting Illinois' economy are within our control. Some are dependent on national and international events beyond our control. Our efforts, therefore, must be reviewed and revised to ensure action in tune with events and conditions within and beyond our borders."

CALLING COOPERATION between business, government and academia the key to economic success, Thompson said, "Unprecedented cooperation among these groups has significantly improved our business climate in recent years. Workers' compensation costs, a major problem, declined in 1984 and are now below the national average."

"For the first time in a decade, Illinois was a net repayer—rather than borrower—into the federal unemployment insurance trust fund."

The Build Illinois plan focuses on labor, management, education and government overseeing the state's economic development efforts. The Build Illinois Committee will provide a forum for a public and private push to revitalize our state."

Among the 41 members are a former Granite Cityan, Bob Gibson, Illinois AFL-CIO president, plus East St. Louis Mayor Carl Officer and Southern Illinois University Chancellor Kenneth Shaw.

Committee chairman is Ormand Wade, Illinois Bell Telephone Co. president.

Thompson said this state's share of the nation's jobs dropped from 7.2 percent in 1960 to 4.9 percent in 1984.

MANUFACTURING JOBS accounted for 38 percent of Illinois jobs 35 years ago but only 22 percent now, while service jobs grew from 12 to 22 percent.

The governor concluded, "A better future will require that we recognize and build on Illinois' strengths, including a skilled work force, highly productive soil, central

Historical Society begins Centennial Business program

Applications for the Illinois State Historical Society's 1985 Centennial Business Program (CBP) are being accepted now through April 15. Any business which has been in continuous operation in Illinois for 100 years or more is eligible and encouraged to apply.

The CBP was designed for the dual purpose of adding the Illinois State Historical Library's historical data on the century-old businesses while providing recognition for the role these pioneer entrepreneurs played in the growth and development of Illinois. Last year 200 Illinois businesses were honored during the program's first year.

This year's program will again highlight the history of businesses honored to the first 200 to apply and be verified. At the time of application, verification of the company's founding year is required through submission of a primary resource document dated 1885 or before.

Oliver S. Foster, state historian for the Illinois State Historical Library and executive director of the society, anticipates reaping a rich reward from the CBP as business histories and records become available for research and copying through the program's documentation process.

Those businesses meeting the necessary criteria will be officially designated Illinois Centennial Businesses and presented certificates at the second annual salute to Illinois Business Pioneers reception and banquet slated for Sept. 7 in Belleville. In addition, they will be listed in a forthcoming directory of Illinois Centennial Businesses and receive a one-year business membership in the Illinois State Historical Society.

A state advisory committee is in place to aid the society in the identification of centennial firms and to provide final approval of all applications. Honorary chairmen include Governor James R. Thompson, Lieutenant Governor George H. Ryan, Secretary of State Jim Edgar and Illinois State Chamber of Commerce President Lester A. Brann.

Jr. General chairman of the 1985 program is Louisa M. Brann, chairwoman of the board for the Belleville National Bank. Committee members include Jerry G. Bradshaw, Gary Wheaton Bank, Willard Bank, Marine Bank of Springfield; George Burke, "Chicago Tribune"; Joe Caputo, "Crain's Illinois Business Magazine"; Chicago; Jack Chamlian, Bradford Supply Company; Robinson; John Coy, John Deere and Company; Moline; Harry L. location, abundant fresh water, energy-generating capabilities, world-class institutions of higher education, cultural amenities and a stable business tax climate."

THE ACTION PLAN detailed in the economic development report identifies 35 goals and the steps necessary to accomplish them. They are organized under five broad categories:

"Ensure for the future: enhance the business climate; invest in Illinois' human resources; maintain and develop the infrastructure, including roads, sewers, water supplies and rail lines; and develop the economic potential of our natural resources while investing in their lasting value."

Taxpayers must keep control

Once again, the Illinois House of Representatives is considering throwing out the baby with the bathwater. A well-intentioned bill has been introduced to assure that schools start on time, but the bill advocates further eroding the control that taxpayers have over how their school taxes are spent.

State Representative Steven G. Nash (D-11th District) has introduced legislation in the House to require Illinois school boards and labor organizations to submit unresolved contractual matters to binding arbitration if they fail to reach agreement by Aug. 1 each year.

While this would put an end to strikes delaying the start of school, it also would see more and more school districts paying teachers an amount determined by an outsider, not by elected school board members.

It was over our strong objections that the legislature legalized binding arbitration for teachers. When the Granite City School Board and teachers deadlocked in negotiations last spring, there was talk of going to binding arbitration. Fortunately, the school board turned that idea down.

An outside arbitrator—not elected by the taxpayers and who does not have to answer to those footing the bill—has no business deciding how much tax money will be paid to teachers or anyone else in government.

It files in the face of our form of government where officials elected by the people control how tax money is spent. If they give away the candy store, the voters can at least then vote them out.

If an arbitrator gives away more money than a district can afford, he simply walks away and leaves the taxpayers footing the bill. The taxpayers have no recourse.

Adding insult to injury, the taxpayers then have to pay half of the arbitration costs. The teachers' union pays the other half.

Rep. Nash's bill is well intentioned. We all want to see our children return to school year on time each spring. However, taking away the taxpayers' right to elect those who spend our money is too great a price to pay to see that school begins on time.

Putting it in plain English

We Americans are in love with fancy phrases to glid the lily. In World War II we had "retrograde movement" to sugar-coat a nasty retreat. Then came "sanitary engineers" for garbage collector and "maintenance man" for janitor.

The age of high-tech has brought a golden age of glib, as it were.

"Hydroforce blast cups" are what a company calls its bathroom plungers. Sounds nicer somehow. Important.

When the used car's price tops $10,000 it's a "pre-owned" car.

The "Star Wars" nuclear war scheme is given the more innocent name of "strategic defense initiative." Sounds like no one gets hurt. One sponsor calls it the "People Protection Act."

We "backloaded our augmentation personnel" from Lebanon to disguise the fact that we pulled out.

A high school in Arkansas doesn't give failing grades, it gives "nonpassing grades." Try that on old dad, son.

Civilian casualties are described as "collateral damage" in Pentagon jargon.

One source noted that we don't have high unemployment here, we just have a "labor surplus."

The collateral damage in all this fancy talk to disguise everyday things is that it muddles up the language and caters to a streak of sleaziness in our generation.

School board awards bid to demolish Dunbar annex

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

Madison School Board members have awarded a bid to demolish the Dunbar School Annex to M.H. Wolfe and Co., contractor of Granite City.

Wolfe's bid was the lowest of seven received, with an estimate of $6,400.

In agreeing Thursday to award the bid to Wolfe, board members stipulated that Wolfe's estimate must contain the cost of hauling away the debris from the demolition, or the board will award the bid to one of the other bidders.

THE BOARD ALSO voted to award a bid for a new stove for the Louis Baer Elementary School cafeteria to Ford Hotel Supply Company of St. Louis. Although Ford did not offer the lowest bid, with a bid of $1,700, the board accepted the bid because it met specifications. A lower bid of $1,600 was received from Edward Don and Company of Chicago, but, Cafeteria Director Caroline Sandor said she would like to go with Ford. A freezer that the school district ordered from the Chicago company last November still has not been delivered, she noted.

In other action, the board accepted a monitoring report by Illinois State Board of Education (ISBE) officials on the Madison School District's Chapter I program. In accepting the report, the board also approved a complaint procedure for the program—one of the concerns voiced by ISBE officials about the program.

The report commended the school district's Chapter I program for major program improvements, the teachers' participation in selecting students for the program, individualized learning for the students, cooperation among program participants and project evaluation results which show overall student gains.

CONCERNS With the program included the need for a comparability statement, for an inventory update and for a complaint procedure.

Madison School District's Chapter I program consists of developmental and remedial reading in grades kindergarten through eighth, and remedial mathematics in grades four through eight.

School board members also approved a least-cost program to use the Dunbar School addition. According to the agreement, the Urban League will not pay rent for the use of the premises.

ALL THE SCHOOL board members, except James E. Newsome, who was absent, agreed to attend a March 4 dinner meeting of the Illinois Association of School Boards' Southwestern Division, in Edwardsville. Patchett, told the board that legislators representing the area, including Representative Sam J. Mass and Senator Sam Vadalabene, will attend the dinner to discuss the concerns of educators.

The board members also agreed to allow board members and administrators to attend the School Board Member—School Administrator Dinner March 13 in Edwardsville.

In personnel matters, the board decided to hire John Wells as the coach for the seventh grade girls' basketball team. Miss Wells was hired by the board last September as the district's adaptive physical education teacher.

THE BOARD ALSO hired Harold "Gene" Briggs Jr. as an assistant girls' track coach. Briggs also is the district's soccer coach.

The board also hired a home economics teacher Nancy Goodwin, who stated that she was resigning because of health reasons, was approved. She taught 20 years in the junior high and middle school.

In addition, the board hired Regina Miller as a secretary for the central office. Mrs. Miller previously was a secretary at Louis Baer School.

OTHER MATTERS approved by the school board Thursday include the following:

—A request that the Madison High School band be set for May 3 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, with music provided by the Prince Wales Ensemble of St. Louis.

—A request from typing teacher Beverly Imming to conduct a "Type-a-Thon" in the typing classes on Feb. 13 to raise money for the typing program.

The students raised $500 through the activity last year.

A request from Band Director William C. Ledbetter to allow 10 students from the middle school band to attend the All-Country Elementary and Junior High School Band Festival on Feb. 22 in Alton.

A request from Jean Kostelnik of the Madison Junior Service Club to collect donations at the schools for the March of Dimes campaign.

A request from track coach Charles Steptoe for students to attend a track meet March 2.

Tax tips

Certain farmers and commercial fishermen must file their 1984 federal income tax returns and pay any tax due by March 1, 1985, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Persons who earned at least two-thirds of their 1983 or 1984 gross income from farming or fishing and did not pay estimated tax by January 15, 1985, or who paid by check and understated their tax liability must file their returns and pay all tax due by March 1, 1985, to avoid paying a penalty.

Free IRS Publications 225, Farmer's Tax Guide; 555, Tax Guide for Commercial Fishermen; and Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax, provide additional information.

To order these publications, taxpayers should write or call the IRS.

Taxpayers who have been out of work and collecting unemployment benefits may owe income tax on those benefits if total income for the year exceeds certain limits, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Generally a single taxpayer will have taxable unemployment compensation if his or her total income is more than $12,000. Married taxpayers filing jointly will be taxed if the total income exceeds $18,000.

For more information on this subject, taxpayers can read the instructions in their tax return packages or obtain a free copy of IRS Publication 965, Tax Information on Unemployment Compensation, by calling or writing the IRS.

Many simple errors that may cause weeks of delay in the processing of federal tax returns can be avoided if taxpayers follow some simple guidelines from the Internal Revenue Service.

The peel-off label containing the taxpayer's name, address and social security number is designed to speed processing. It is important that taxpayer verify the accuracy of their mailing labels. If corrections are necessary, taxpayers should make them directly on the label.

Math errors, using the incorrect tax table or schedule, wrong line entries, failure to attach all necessary schedules and failure to sign the return are the most frequent problems areas which cause delays in refunds. Taxpayers should carefully read the instructions and review their returns before sending them to the IRS.

Starting early can be beneficial. Not only would taxpayers receive their refunds earlier, but they would also have the time to double-check the returns before filing. Returns filed late in the filing season are often completed hastily and under pressure, dramatically increasing the chance of errors.

Social Security 'Freeze'

Eliminating the anticipated cost of living raise for social security recipients is one of the considerations the Reagan Administration is making for the 1986 federal budget. The proposal will not cut the payment received by social security recipients, rather it would do away with its scheduled pay increase. Persons visiting the Press-Record office Friday were asked how they felt about such a 'freeze' on benefits. Their reactions follow:

Charles Logas, Granite City

"I think I would much rather see them cut the defense budget. We need to take care of our seniors as well as dependent citizens. We need to sustain the social security system."

Patricia Howell, Granite City

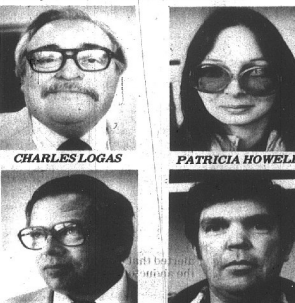

"I don't think they should cut it (social security) at all. Or for that matter even ask for a payment freeze. Those people deserve what they've got coming in social security. I could see them cutting the defense budget, although that employs a lot of people. I guess I'd like to see a more efficient spending of our defense money."

Chuck Schroll, Belleville

"No, I'm not in favor of a freeze. I'd rather see the money spent to help the older people before it goes for military spending. There's too much money spent on defense now."

Jerry Cholevik, Granite City

"I don't approve of it. No freeze. They (social security recipients) should receive a cost of living raise to keep up with inflation. Many of them have trouble now keeping up with expenses as they are now. A freeze may be disastrous. Instead, I'd rather see the government tighten up on the corporate tax loopholes. There are some very large corporations that don't pay any taxes. That's really wrong."

Says tribute to Costoff was well deserved

To the Editor:

I had a chance to witness one of the greatest events of Granite City and that is honoring one of the greatest and most deserving men of all time, Mr. Democrat himself, the honorable Christ Costoff of Madison.

It was a grand affair. I have known Christ for a few years, but it's a honor and a pleasure to know a fine and outstanding community servant and leader. Christ never boasted about anything, his track record speaks for itself. Just think, 50 years, a half of a century, this man has been a faithful and loyal to his Democratic Party. But most of all he has helped more people in their needs. Regardless of race, he needed needs of human beings and he just did what he had to do.

The good book says give honor to whom honor is due. Truly Christ is deserving. When people needed jobs he helped, needed housing, he helped, needed food, he helped, needed money, he gave.

Christ helped put people in office, U.S. senators, congressmen. He made governors, county officials and even local mayors and other elected officials.

Many came and those that could not come sent their cards and expressions of good luck to Mr. Democrat. If all the people that he helped had come, there would not have been a place in Madison County to hold the people.

Behind every good man, there is a true friend. That is no other than Mrs. Democrat, his wife, Maxine, who sticks by her husband. She must be commended.

My hat is off to Mac Warfield and

COMMENDS MADISON'S POLICE, AMBULANCE CREW

To the Editor:

We want to commend the Madison Police Department and the Madison Fire Department Ambulance Service for their fast response when our family needed them.

At 12:45 a.m. on Jan. 15, our 2-year-old daughter went into convulsions from a high fever. We were terrified, as you can imagine. The Madison police responded to our call within three minutes. The ambulance arrived within four minutes. We were transported to the hospital quickly, through their joint efforts, and she received the help she needed.

his committee for a job well done. There is a song, that says, "If I could help somebody along life's way, then my living will not be in vain." Also another song says, "Give me my flowers so that I can smell them." Truly Mac and the committee gave Christ his flowers and he sure had a chance to smell them and see all his friends that make up the rose garden.

THE REVEREND JOHN H. WILLIAMS

We want to give special recognition to the ambulance attendants, Fred Pinazzo and Mike Foley, who stayed at the hospital with us until she had stabilized at 3 a.m. Also to Rich Ballew and Curtis Bradley, Madison police officers, for their timely assistance.

Our daughter has recovered from her illness now, thanks in part to their efforts. It's good to know that, if the need arises, we can depend upon these men and their co-workers to come to our aid.

Says Madison's Fourth Ward is overlooked

To the Editor:

Many, many people in the Fourth Ward in Madison have been asking me why I am not running with the so called "city administration" ticket.

First, let me remind them that four years ago I ran as a totally-independent candidate. I did not run as the "city" choice, as I told them that I would not be another "yes" man like they wanted on the council. The people of the Fourth Ward elected me then and the people will elect me again.

Why am I now running with the New Life party? Because I feel their word can be trusted. The only time the present "city" people pay any attention to the Fourth Ward is at election time. Any other time for the past four years they turn a deaf ear to the Fourth Ward and a blind eye.

I have not asked for much, just to be fair with us. We have very little police protection, no Fourth Ward people on the fire department, and just check around the only time they hire anyone from the Fourth Ward is around election time.

I asked Mike Mack, who holds among numerous other paying city jobs, including alarm director, why no people from the Fourth Ward are on the fire department. All he could say was "I can't answer that."

Conditions in the Fourth Ward are bad. I even took pictures and had them at the council meeting and the ex-mayor refused to even look at them. Then a rumor was started that the pictures were old. They were old—about seven hours old. I gave them to the press.

Our new temporary mayor was an alderman all this time, but not once did he try to help the Fourth Ward when I or Alderman Don Garrett would bring up a problem.

But now that it is election time, our temporary mayor is so concerned about helping us in the Fourth Ward again. Where were the "city" people like the fire chief, police chief and the mayor the past four years? How can he expect us to believe that the current "city" administration is so concerned and want to help us? They never tried to help us before.

I could go on, but the people of the Fourth Ward know where I stand and they are not being fooled right before election time.

THE REV. CHARLES ROCKETT
Fourth Ward alderman

Recognizes those who helped

To the Editor:

On Jan. 29 the Granite City Council of Seniors sponsored an evening of free bingo to all seniors 55 and over at the township building. We had about 250 seniors attend.

We were told by Nellie Hagauer (township's supervisor) if we obtained enough people needing transportation, we could have the township's seniors.

We, the council of seniors, would like to recognize Von Dee Cruise, Darlene and Frank Laub, Karen and Dewey Melton and Kathie Williams, who helped us.

we couldn't use the vans. I understand he was on vacation at the time.

When the following people heard about our situation, they donated their cars, vans and time to bring the 45 seniors to the township building and take them back home.

We, the council of seniors, would like to recognize Von Dee Cruise, Darlene and Frank Laub, Karen and Dewey Melton and Kathie Williams, who helped us.

from a half-mile north of Interstate 55-70 to 1.36 miles north of Horseshoe Lake Road southeast of the Quad-City area.

The state engineer's estimate of the cost of the work was $14,699,000. Low bids are being rechecked to see that they meet state specifications and that all work was figured properly.

Another 1-255 contract is to be awarded for 1.89 miles of reinforced concrete pavement from Bunkum Road to Black Lane in and west of Caseyville. Keeley Brothers Contracting Co. and Hoeft Brothers Inc., of East-St. Louis, submitted a joint low bid of $6,641,287, which is below the engineer's estimate of $6,393,000.

OTHER LOW BIDS for work under consideration in this area include the cleaning and painting of 14 structural steel bridges on Interstate 55-70 east of the Poplar Street Bridge complex. Northwestern Contractors, Inc., of East Chicago, Ind., has submitted the low bid of $738,475, which is well below the engineer's estimate of $902,000.

Pier cap repairs at various locations on the Poplar Street Bridge complex also were bid and St. Louis Bridge Construction Co. of Arnold, Mo., submitted the low bid of $1,476,073 for the work. The state engineer's estimate was for $2,604,000.

Madison County projects for which bids were received include four-tenths of a mile of skid resistant bituminous concrete resurfacing and other related work on Marine Road seven-tenths of a mile north of St. Jacob. Madco Asphalt Co., Inc., of Collinsville is low bidder at $37,475. The engineer's estimate was $36,900.

WORK IN ALTON also is included in the bidding. Charles E. Mahoney Co. of Belleville is the low bidder at $59,261 for nine-tenths of a mile of pavement grinding at the intersection of Route 140 (Washington Avenue) at Broadway. The engineer's estimate was $43,700.

Caldwell Engineering Co. and Barton Contractors, Inc., of Jacksonville, Ill., submitted the low bid to remove and replace the bridge carrying Route 143 over Wood River Creek in Alton for $759,819. The engineer's estimate was $815,000.

rowed the current field to one or two persons, probably in late February or early March, officials said. The board then may visit the city or cities in which the remaining candidate or candidates reside and confer with residents and officials there.

A timetable prepared earlier calls for the hiring decision to be made here by March 12, with the individual to report for duty July 1 or earlier.

School Supt. Frank L. Kraus is taking early retirement June 30 after spending most of his education career in the Granite City district.

GRANITE CITY STEEL'S ASSES-

ed valuation was the other topic Thursday night, the board conferring with a Chicago area appraisal expert, William Townsley.

An earlier discussion was conducted in Chicago by Townsley, agents of the American Appraisal Co., Supt. Kraus, School Attorney William Schooley and representatives of Granite City Steel.

Townsley has been employed by Granite City and Namecki area governmental bodies to appraise the steel plant. A pending state assessment appeal hearing has been postponed until June.

Board President Kelly Hogan presided and others present were Secretary Alan Cridder, Treasurer David Farnley, Monroe Worthen, Ruth Lahr and Dewey Melton.

2 sought in GC kidnap, robbery

An investigation is being continued by police in Granite City and St. Louis County following a Feb. 6 building invasion, aggravated kidnapping and armed robbery at Jerry Podraza's Corner Cuts barber and beauty shop, 2917 Madison Ave. Podraza, 34, and a 23-year-old woman customer were abducted at gunpoint along with his friend and employee, Dorothy Carney, 24. Driven to the latter's Moline Acres home, the trio was bound and gagged by two men who robbed them and searched the residence.

The victims were able to free themselves, and authorities were alerted that evening. Descriptions of the abductors are being compiled.

As the three were being transported in Missouri in Dorothy Carney's car, they were forced to remain low in the vehicle so that they could not be seen.

The kidnapers indicated they had kept the home and business under surveillance before carrying out the early-afternoon abduction.

GC gives ok to revised truck law

Granite City aldermen gave final approval last week to an ordinance prohibiting spillage from vehicles.

A similar ordinance, which was passed last October, was deemed too harsh by local truck drivers, so a compromise was worked out between the aldermen and the trucking companies.

The resulting product includes a pyramid-type fining system for offenders. For example, the first offense is between $50 and $100, the second fine—if within 30 days—is between $100 and $300, and the third fine is between $200 and $500, if within 30 days.

The new ordinance also has a clause which allows for the detaining of the vehicle and the driver, if a load is spilled. The driver and the vehicle may be detained until the cargo is reloaded, or covered, to prevent further spillage.

The new ordinance does not place any weight limitations on the trucks that are covered under this ordinance. The first draft of the law exempted trucks with a gross unloaded weight less than 4,000 pounds.

Maria Bonini, mother of a GC woman, dies

Mrs. Maria (Oldani) Bonini, 83, of 905 W. Cherry St., Herrin, Ill., mother of Mrs. Raymond (Theresa) Sudholt of Granite City, died at 6 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 7, 1985, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Ill. since Nov. 5, Mrs. Bonini was hospitalized for two weeks.

She was born in Milano, Italy. Mrs. Bonini was a member of San Carlo Catholic Church in Herrin.

Mrs. Bonini was preceded in death by her husband, Michael Bonini and a daughter, Pauline Horn in 1973.

Also surviving are five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Local arrangements were by Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave. Funeral services were conducted today, Feb. 11, at Johnson Funeral Home in Herrin, Ill., with burial in San Carlo Cemetery, Herrin.

CITE LOCAL MAN FOR DUI, OTHER CHARGES

Michael D. Wegryn, 32, of Box 46, Granite City, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, illegal possession of alcohol and driving while his license was revoked at 10:25 p.m. Friday.

Wegryn was arrested when found seated in a 1976 Dodge which was stopped halfway on the Clark Service Station lot, 2005 Madison Ave., and half on the thoroughfare. A bottle of beer allegedly was on the vehicle's console, reports noted.

Wegryn declined to take a breathalyzer test and was charged. He was released on recognizance at 9:45 a.m. Saturday by authority of Associate Judge George Filcoff and is to appear by March 8.

New talks today with Teamsters

New talks are set for 1:30 p.m. today between the Madison County Board's negotiating committee led by Herbert "Junior" Milton and bargainers for Teamsters Local 326.

The local represents 27 workers in the highway, animal control and sheriff's departments. The previous contract expired Nov. 30.

Chris Zahn, business representative, told the Illinois Labor Relations Board Jan. 29 that the county had threatened to put its latest offer into effect even if the union rejects it later this month. He called this an illegal labor practice and said he will pursue it no matter what contract eventually is approved. The board was created by the Public Employee Collective Bargaining Act July 1, 1984.

Milton said Thursday he was surprised by the charge and asserted that the current offer is fair and equitable to both sides. He said that nothing improper has been done.

Win Collinsville Regional

Grapplers get 25th regional for 'Schmitty'

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — It was halftime of the basketball game Saturday night at Memorial Gymnasium, and the Granite City High Warrior wrestlers were on the court taking a bow.

They had done this wonderful thing a short while earlier in Collinsville, and they wanted the folks who packed the inside of the fieldhouse this sleek, snowy night to know all about it.

They had won the regional tournament in the Vergil Fletcher gymnasium, swept to the crown in a brilliant final round rally — ushered along by this tidal wave of emotion and sentiment for their retiring coach, which grew as the round went along and the points piled up.

THE WARRIORS trailed Roxana, the Regional's top-seeded and defending champion, by two and one-half points (127-124½) going into the championship round.

Three of four Warriors (Jeff Colter, 98 lb. division; Vince Slecka, 126; and Steve Knogl, 167) who had advanced to their championship bouts earned titles, and five (Rich Wilson, 105; Gary Mann, 112; Mark Whitaker, 145; Mike Fenoglio, 155; and Tracy McElroy, 185) of seven others who contested for a third place also won.

This avalanche of successes, combined by an almost equal dose of disappointments from the Shells — who lost five of six championship matches and two of three bouts for third places — launched the Warriors to the title with 156½ points, a runaway spread over second place Roxana which finished with 134 points.

STEWART was next with 116 points followed by Edwardsville 85, Triad 72, Collinsville 45, Wood River 38, Jerseyville 25½ and Highland 2.

So the Warrior wrestlers took a bow and in return were showered with wild applause from fans, who initially were at the gymnasium to see if the Warriors' basketball team could fend off a challenge from Collinsville for a share of the Southwestern Conference lead.

The fans cheered even for those Warriors who failed to come away with a victory in the final round: Brett Carner (126, who lost in the championship match), and Tom Sparks (138) and Chris Greer (unlimited weight division), both of whom lost in matches for third place.

The ONLY Warrior who didn't advance to the final round was sophomore Bill Stone (132) subbing for injured Mike Lewis. Even Stone distinguished himself, tossing his opponent around like a rag doll before losing a decision in the "wrestle back" round.

Even "Schmitty" chuckled about that.

HE IS retiring, you know. That's what made this Regional tournament victory so special.

It was his 25th. When he steps down after this season, he will close the curtains down on 38 years of coaching at Granite City.

There is something magical, isn't there, about the numbers 25 (regional titles) and 38 (years coaching)?

They are two numbers "Schmitty" will take with him to the golf course (he plays golf), or during road races (he is an avid jogger), or whatever he does to take up the time he had spent in teaching high schoolers how to excel in a sport and, at the same time, instruct them on the importance of being the best they could be.

THIS WARRIOR wrestling team, which earlier in the season presented "Schmitty" with his 600th career dual meet victory, had brought themselves much honor in winning the Regional. But for the hundreds of others who know, love and respect their coach, they did something much greater.

They sent Bill "Red" Schmitt home a winner.

This was a concern. "I think he's probably happy to go out this way with a win," said assistant coach Walt Whitaker, "Schmitty's" hand-picked successor. "That was the big thing. He didn't want to go out as a loser."

WHITAKER stood apart from the crowd at the Vergil Fletcher gymnasium. He stood with a wide smile and with arms folded, the picture of satisfaction. As the captain of

REGIONAL CHAMPS. Members of Granite City High School's wrestling team proudly display their regional wrestling championship plaque after winning the regional Schmitt's first Granite City team and, for a while Schmitt's fierce rival as the head coach at Granite City North, he has felt the heat of Schmitt's blazing desire to excel.

"He likes the kids to do whatever it takes (to win), short of being illegal. He's just impressed upon them that they don't learn anything from losing. Winning is the thing. No one remembers who finished in second place."

It probably should be noted that one man gestured to "Schmitty" and the wrestlers to hold up a "V" sign with their hands while posing for a victory picture afterward.

IT WAS the same gesture "Schmitty" had given the team after the Southwestern Conference meet a week earlier.

The wrestlers were all huddled on the bus, waiting for Schmitt to bring the results.

When he stepped inside, they cried out, "How did we do? Where did we finish?"

"He holds up these two fingers," says McElroy. Complied the story McElroy drops his voice to emulate "Schmitty," because Schmitt has this deep voice.

"This 'V'," McElroy said, relating what Schmitt said, "is for victory."

"WE THOUGHT" he meant second."

Saturday. The Warriors, who outdistanced nemesis and top seeded Roxana for the title, made a special presentation to coach Bill Schmitt who is retiring after this season.

said McElroy with a laugh. "It makes me feel good," McElroy said of the regional victory. "We were psyched up. We knew we had a shot at it."

He said he was well aware why a victory in this regional was so necessary and why the subsequent triumph was so special.

"I know I was thinking about it," McElroy said of Schmitt's retirement.

"I'm happy for him going out like this," said Fenoglio.

"We just knew we had to win this," said Whitaker.

FOR "Schmitty," the victory was sweet. In fact, there wasn't a disparaging word. "Schmitty" is the sort of guy who, when you praise him for something outstanding he and his team had accomplished, he'd think of two other minuscule things that didn't go right. It was pointed out to him earlier in the year that he had manufactured a wrestling "dynasty," but he deviated that lofty appraisal to "winning tradition," explaining the team had not been doing well lately. There were no gray clouds this day.

"I feel great about it," he said. "I feel a heckuva lot better than I feel last."

Warriors, Kahoks Tied In SWC

GCHS falls to East, Kahoks; SWC race tightens

BEHIND THE GLASS. Granite City's Scott Cant put up this shot during Saturday night's Southwestern Conference basketball game at Granite City High School. The Warriors lost the contest to the Collinsville Kahoks and with it sole possession of the conference lead.

GRANITE CITY — The trauma that befell the Granite City High School basketball team this weekend — the two shattering losses that dropped them into a share of the Southwestern Conference lead — might best be understood by what happened in January.

Last month may have been one of the coldest Januarys on record, but as cold as it was Granite City's High School basketball coach Don Deterding found something soothing in those frigid temperatures.

YOU SEE, as cold as it was outside it was conversely as hot inside, especially when the Warriors were playing.

On Dec. 28, the Warriors lost to Chicago-Collins in the Collinsville Holiday Basketball Tournament. The loss was Granite City's fifth in 11 games and it eliminated the Warriors from the tourney. It was a hard loss for the Warriors to take. They've had such high hopes for this year's team.

But as hard as the loss to Collins was to accept, there was reason for celebration. January was just around the corner, a January the Warrior basketball team hasn't seen in many, many years.

JANUARY for the Warriors actually began on Friday, Jan. 4. It began on a high note that included a 12 point, 64-52 win over the Collinsville Kahoks. That was a game in which the Warriors saw the development and emergence of 6-foot 9-inch senior center Don Stevanus.

With Stevanus as an added part of Granite City's arsenal, the Warrior rampage through January continued with victories over East St. Louis, Roxana, Hillsboro, Alton and Triad. When the month ended, the Warriors had played perfect basketball. They were 6-0 for the month.

WHEN February came, the Warrior streak continued. It lingered for one weekend and on Feb. 2, the Warriors battered old Gateway East Conference rival Belleville Althoff 68-54. The Warriors found themselves in an enviable position — 13-5 overall and 5-0 in the ever-so-tough Southwestern Conference.

Then came the second weekend of February. Granite City's biggest weekend of the season. Two ultra-important conference games lay right in front of them — Belleville East on Friday and the rematch with Collinsville on Saturday.

It was a weekend which offered two paths. One of double victories and clinching at least a tie for the conference or the other of a double loss which included a setback that and shaking his head. "We had a two-game lead coming in this weekend and now it's gone. It's (winning the conference) really going to be tough now."

WHEN Saturday's post-game interview had come so had the realization that the Warriors had lost both games — an 81-69 setback to Belleville East and a 61-55 loss to Collinsville. When the Warriors had to be their best they weren't.

"These kids have never been in a conference race like this one before," Deterding said dejected and shaking his head. "We had a two-game lead coming in this weekend and now it's gone. It's (winning the conference) really going to be tough now."

Against Belleville East Friday, the Warriors started the game without two of their regular starters. Six-foot 5-inch senior forward Scott Cant was out with a twisted ankle and 6-foot 2-inch senior forward Kurt Hylla missed the bus and didn't arrive with team.

COMBINE the absence of those two with the talent of the Lancers' 7-foot senior center Gary Leonard, and it made for, at least, a psychological advantage for the Lancers in the first quarter. Hylla, later, entered the game midway through the first quarter.

"I'm not so sure that the absence of Cant and Hylla made that much difference against East," Deterding said. "I could've played Scott, but I chose not to. You have to weigh the possibility of playing him and risk reinjuring himself or not playing him and having him for next week and the rest of the season. I chose not to play him."

"It wasn't that we played so poorly it's more that they had come to play. I've never seen them (East) play as well as they did against us," Deterding said. "They had come ready to play."

Ready to play?

More like ready to kill.

LED BY Leonard who had a game high 35 points, the Lancers dashed to a 28-13 first quarter lead. The Warriors fell behind 14-0 before 6-foot 4-inch senior Jerry Paul tallied the Warriors' first points.

It was just that kind of night for "This undoubtedly has to be the hardest loss for me to take. I don't mean to degrade Collinsville, but we lost the game, Collinsville didn't win it."

Don Deterding
Warrior basketball coach

the Warriors. After spotting the Lancers that 14-point lead, they were never able to fully overcome their early point deficit. The closest Granite City ever got to East was eight points.

Against Collinsville the next night it was a different story with the same ending.

FACED equally by both the Warriors' biggest and smallest players, on the court — Stevanus and 5-foot 7-inch sophomore forward Tim Hogan — the Warriors were the aggressors.

After the first quarter, Granite City took a 17-14 lead and by the half, commanded a nine-point 35-26 lead. By halftime Stevanus led all scorers with 12 points and Hogan, largely because of his long-range looping jumping jumpers, amassed 10.

"I think this was probably Stevanus' best ball game of the season," Deterding said. "And as for Timmy Hogan, he did a heckuva job taking his shots and passing off to Stevanus."

"AND AS for Joe (Gray), well he always hustles his butt off. Beyond that, I can't say too much," Deterding said.

"We made so many dumb mistakes. I just might as well be talking to the wall sometimes," the Warrior coach said shaking his head. "This undoubtedly has to be the hardest loss for me to take."

Wildcats tame Gators for title, 32-28

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Consistency. Looking back over the game, consistency was the single most determining factor in Thursday night's Madison County Junior High School Conference basketball championship game between Edwardsville and Grigsby in Coolidge Gymnasium.

Simply put, the Wildcats had the consistency and the Gators didn't. The difference in that consistency made for a 32-28 Wildcat victory and another conference championship. Edwardsville replaces last year's champion Coolidge as keeper of the conference trophy.

THE WILDCATS, who have now won the tournament five times since 1974, started slow but tallied in each of the four six-minute quarters.

The Gators started out of the blocks like a championship hurdler, dashing to a 9-4 lead after the first quarter. Then, in the second quarter, something happened. The hurdling "Boy Wonders" stumbled.

They stumbled, fell flat and then apart. In a span of six minutes, the Gators' five-point lead slipped to a four-point deficit. And, had Edwardsville's Chris Flamer not fouled Grigsby's Mark Janco as he attempted a half-court shot seconds before the half ended and drew the foul, the Gators wouldn't have scored at all the second quarter.

AS IT WAS, Janco was able to sink the second of two shots afforded him on the shooting foul to register the Gators' only second-quarter tally.

"That wasn't our quarter was it?" said Grigsby coach Mike Edwards after the game. "We got off strong, but they outthrust us and we couldn't get our shots to fall."

Not getting the shots to fall. That was a big part of the Gators' demise in the second quarter.

Largely by the efforts of 5-foot 11-inch Kary Burton and 5-foot 7-inch Mike Dillier's long-range jumpers, the Gators were able to establish their first-quarter lead. Then in the second quarter, Dillier, who had tied for the conference free-throw shooting title just 15 minutes before, went cold. His shots were missing and, consequently, the Gators faltered.

"WHEN HE (Dillier) wasn't hitting I knew we had to go inside, but you know kids this age. They don't always do what you tell them," Edwards said. "And we suffered for it."

But even with the the Gators' poor showing the second quarter, Edwards said, "I'm convinced that the team couldn't recover from the second quarter setback. He was right."

"I didn't feel like we were out of it then. As a matter of fact we made a run at them in the third quarter. The turning point," Edwards said, "was when my big kid (6-foot Joe Hickham) went down. If you're looking for a turning point, that has to be it."

THAT turning point came with 4:06 remaining in the third quarter. The Gators managed to tie the game at 16 with Janco's bank shot, just 32 seconds before Hickham went down. Attempting to intercept a Wildcat pass, Hickham became entangled with two Edwardsville players. He went down and his head struck the hardwood and did not return until the fourth quarter. The entanglement brought a few words from and a technical foul to the Gators' bench. Edwardsville's Robbie McNally responded to the technical foul by sinking it to put the Wildcats ahead to stay.

GRIGSBY did manage to outscore Edwardsville in the third quarter by one, 7-6, but it wasn't enough to overcome their second-quarter shortcomings.

During the fourth quarter, the pace of the game quickened. What had been more of a slower, work-the-ball-type of game early had given way to a run-and-gun style. As it was, the fourth quarter became both teams' most productive offensively. Grigsby tallied 10, two less than Coach Paul Lancaster's Wildcats.

"A heckuva exciting ball game," Lancaster said afterwards. "I thought Grigsby played a fine ball game. They did a good job of adjusting to our defenses; better than any team has this year. They've got a very fine team and an equally good coach. We feel very fortunate to have won," Lancaster concluded.

When asked about Grigsby's second quarter Lancaster was sympathetic, but glad for the outcome.

"Sometimes that happens. They get off to an earlier lead and then bad troubles in the second quarter. It happens. That's part of what makes sports... It's unpredictability."

In the game which preceded the championship, Madison defeated North Junior High of Collinsville for third place.

Free-throw Champs

HOT SHOTS. Mike Dillier of Grigsby, left, and Steve Franke of Edwardsville were both named Madison County Junior High School Conference free-throw champions Thursday night when both sank 38 of a possible 50 free-throws. It was the second shootout for the two who tied with 40 of 50 attempts the week before. Standing behind the two sharpshooters is Jim Holand Sr., who with his son Jim Jr., coordinated the event.

Madison sweep weekend

By ELDON WARFIELD
of the Press-Record

MADISON — Madison High School's basketball team upped its record to 15-6 with a pair of victories this weekend, the first against Waterloo-Gibault and the second against Hillsboro.

Friday night the Trojans traveled to Waterloo to take on Gibault, where they surprised the Hawks by downing them 74-70.

The win was no surprise to Madison Coach Rodney Watson. "We were only going to give them one shot on each possession," said Watson. "They're definitely a top 20 team in the state and maybe even better than that on their home court."

THE KNEW they had two good scorers so we wanted to shut down the other three starters," stated Watson.

The strategy worked for Madison as they held the secondary scorers of Gibault to a combined 23 points, but Daury Schilling and Jeff Pieper hit for 27 and 20 respectively for the Hawks.

It was a well balanced attack that paced the Trojans. Reggie Banks led Madison scorers with 18 followed by Anthony Newson with 17, DeLoyd Williams with 14 and 13 by Anthony Valentine.

Banks starred in the Trojan performance Saturday night as well as he led his team with 24 points to an 83-45 win over the Hillsboro Hilltoppers.

THE TROJANS quickly jumped on the 3-16 Hilltoppers by running off 10 unanswered points early in the first quarter to take a commanding 14-4 lead. When the quarter ended the Trojans were out in front 16-7. That was as close as Hillsboro would get to Madison.

In the second frame, Banks rattled off 14 of his 24 points and Williams hit for 11 of his 13 to increase the Madison lead to 43-18 at the half.

The highlight of the second half came when Banks was slapped with a technical foul for a monstrous slam dunk that brought the fans to life.

THE TROJANS went on to a 83-45 win. The win was a relief for Coach

Watson because there is always the fear of a mental let down after a big win the night before.

"I've got to give our guys a lot of praise for going out and giving it their all and playing a complete game," said Watson. "It would have been real easy to overlook this game."

Valentine added 16 points for the Trojan effort while Reggie Banks hit 10.

The Trojans will be in action this Thursday in Highland against St. Paul.

DOC shelves proposed 'buck only' deer permit modification for '85

SPRINGFIELD — Possible changes in the firearm deer permit system have been shelved through 1985 to allow an in-depth examination of the issue and determining public opinion, according to Department of Conservation Director Michael Witte.

A statewide "bucks only" permit was discussed as one possible modification during a series of public meetings held last fall. Director Witte said that these meetings, coupled with subsequent letters and phone calls from various constituents, revealed strong differences of opinion.

"We are currently re-evaluating the original proposal," Director Witte said. "This would have been the first major change in a successful program dating back to 1957. We certainly want to take every precaution to ensure that any possible modification of the system will be beneficial."

"Naturally, our first concern is the continued vitality of the Illinois deer herd," Witte said. "That will always be our main priority. But we are also investigating prudent and practical options to provide the optimum recreational opportunities for hunters which will, simultaneously, receive approval from landowners and other concerned individuals."

"Once we have completed our re-evaluation of this issue we will again discuss possible revisions of the firearm deer permit with constituents throughout the state."

"We will schedule another series of public meetings to air the issue," Witte said. "At the same time, our Department will be making a concerted effort to elicit opinions on the matter from every possible source. The public will have ample time and opportunity to provide input into any decisions that might evolve."

Illinois hunters harvested a record 29,000 deer last season. Currently, "either sex" permits are allocated by lottery on a county basis. The proposal discussed during the fall series of meetings would have created a "bucks only" permit in addition to the either sex lottery permit, and would have eliminated the paid landowner/tenant permit—among other changes.

Citizens who wish to comment on possible changes to the Illinois firearm deer permit system should write: Department of Commerce, Fish and Wildlife Division, 524 South Second St., Springfield, IL 62706.

HIGHLAND — The Madison girls' basketball team dropped a 64-41 decision to Breese-Central Thursday night in a consolation semi-final game, eliminating them from the St. Paul Tournament.

The Trojanettes opened their first game of the tourney with a staggering defeat 58-28 at the hands of Chokio.

Then the Madison girls bounced back and slipped by Greenville 66-64 in overtime. It was the 35-point performance of senior guard Kim Stanley that sparked the Trojanette attack.

"This is a rebuilding year for us. Last year we graduated nine seniors," stated Trojanette Coach Carol Cole. "There have been times this year when we have had four sophomores and a freshman on the court at the same time."

"They work hard, they do what I ask of them and that's all anyone can ask for," complimented Cole. "In the past I've had a lot of talent, these girls are young and they're a really good bunch of kids."

"If we can get them to camp this summer we'll be in real good shape next year," Cole projected.

The Trojanettes will play at Assumption this Thursday at 6:15 p.m. Assumption is seeded first in the DuPo Regional ahead of second seeded Madison.

Wrestling

HE SAID he felt happy for the 10 Warrior wrestlers who qualified for the sectional tournament (those placing first, second or third advanced), which will be held next Saturday here.

He said he "feels" for the three Warriors who didn't qualify for the Sectional singling out Sparks (a state qualifier last year), and noted that was just further evidence of how competitive the regional had been.

"If there was any that were more competitive I don't recall," Schmitt told Roxana coach Larry Milazzo, while accepting his congratulations.

THE WARRIORS have more work ahead. They will meet Belleville East in a dual meet here Tuesday night beginning at 6:30 p.m. Should they win, they will meet the winner of another regional champion. The winner of that would advance its entire team to the state tournament.

Conceivably, Sparks, Greer and Stone (or Lewis) could compete in state tournament play.

As for celebrating, "Schmitt" said he was too old to "whoop and holler." He said he was going home.

For one who has accomplished so much in this final year as an educator and coach, the wrestling gods didn't seem to smile much on him at the start of the season — even though this was to be his last.

THERE were all these injuries, remember? And that dismal fifth place showing in the Granite City holiday tournament — probably the Warriors' low point of the season. "Schmitt" is home now. The bus had traversed the slick roads without so much as a hitch on its way to Granite City. He is standing just outside the lockerroom in a corridor leading to the gymnasium floor — where his wrestlers are being introduced and their achievements in the regional listed.

For one who doesn't spend much time anyway smelling the roses, the beginning of the season was no time to start.

THE WARRIORS returned to Schmitt after their halftime in the sun, and returned the regional tournament victory plaque they had shouldered.

"We didn't scratch it or nothing," said McElroy, almost proudly. Schmitt smiled. Ever looking for that gray cloud no matter how bright the sky, he pointed to a part of the plaque that read "IHSA." He told the kids how it had fallen off.

But then, he said while looking at it, "They glued it back on."

You see, Schmitt. Things turned out right, after all.

Park sponsors fast-pitch softball clinic

The Granite City Park District, in cooperation with a handful of fast-pitch softball enthusiasts, has scheduled a fast-pitch softball pitching clinic for Saturday, March 16, at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos Avenues.

According to Dave Nolan, director of parks and recreation, the park is sponsoring the clinic for two reasons. The first being to improve participation while generating new interest in the park's summer fast-pitch league, and the second to aid the high school softball program.

Currently, GCHS athletics sponsors a girls' team in the spring.

The clinic, which is free, will begin at 10 a.m. and will tentatively last for four hours, Nolan said.

Persons may register for the clinic now at the Wilson Park Office during business hours or by calling 877-3059.

Pro wrestling card in Venice

Due to an odd outcome of their recent scheduled match up in Venice, which eventually led to Bob Sweetan's disqualification, another pro wrestling card between Sweetan and Spike Huber has been slated on Saturday, March 2, at Venice High School.

The event will begin at 8 p.m. Once again sponsored by the Venice Lions' Club, the event is expected to attract numerous wrestling fans for this Illinois championship bout.

The newly scheduled bout will be a no "disqualification match." Tickets are $7, ringside and general admission are $5 for adults and $3 for children and are available at the Venice High School, Blake's Lounge, Design Unlimited and State Street Pawn Shop.

don't mean to degrade Collinsville, but we lost the game, Collinsville didn't beat us."

Those "dumb mistakes" became ever so apparent in the third quarter. Leading by nine going into the quarter, the Warriors faltered and Collinsville was able to outscore the Warriors 2-1, 16-8.

KATAPA coach Gene Catalpa had an explanation for the Kahoks' third-quarter bonanza.

"It's a matter of finding the right chemistry," Catalpa said.

That right Kahok combination, Catalpa said, involves substituting La Roy Linder for John Barberis. The rest of the lineup included Keith Burns, Tony Ellis, Jeff Smith and Jeff LeCuyer.

"I don't want to take anything away from Cant, because he's a great player, but they're (Granite City) down right now."

Cant, who got released from his doctor Friday to participate, didn't play at all Friday and very little Saturday.

"I SAID" sometime ago that the winner of the conference will probably have two losses. I don't want to say that I'm a prophet, but that's certainly the way things are now. There are still three tough games left.

"They're (Granite City) not out of it. If they win their next three they'll have the title and the same is true for us," Catalpa said referring to the 5-2 conference records that Collinsville and Granite City share.

Trailing by a single point as the fourth quarter began, 43-42, the Kahoks were able to carry their third-quarter momentum with them into the final stanza.

Le CUYER wasted little time in trying the game as he sank the second of a one-and-one situation to tie the game at 42.

The score fluctuated at 45, 57 and then 49 each before the Kahoks began to pull away. Smith and Linder each scored to put Collinsville ahead.

Then, like a tale told indicating the beginning of the end for the Warriors, Hylla fouled out. Less than a minute later Joe Gray fouled out.

Realizing their only chance of getting back into the game was to force the Kahoks to the line and make their free throws, the Warrior did. And so did Collinsville preserving the win.

The Warriors, now 13-7, have Friday night off before traveling to Belleville on Saturday to meet Belleville West for a 6:30 p.m. series.

Timing snag threatens sale of airport

By JUDY TAPLIN

Timing problems could jinx Collinsville's yet very tentative plans to acquire Nichols Airport, Mayor Gene Brombolich said last week.

Brombolich was told recently that federal funds for an airport layout plan would not be available until sometime after July.

But Williams Nichols, the airport's owner, has given the state of Illinois a July deadline for finding a municipality to purchase the airport.

NICHOLS AIRPORT is located on Route 111 at State Aid 35. Formerly Lakeside Airport, it was purchased by Nichols in 1968 and was renamed in 1970.

It is currently little used, and is classified by the state as an air strip rather than an airport.

When officials of the Illinois Department of Transportation's Division of Aeronautics learned that Nichols was planning to plow up the two remaining runways and use the land for other purposes, they became interested in finding a community to take over and expand the facility so that the air space would be retained.

Brombolich confirmed in November that he was studying Collinsville's possible acquisition of the approximately 150-acre site.

THE ENVISIONS an airport for small corporate jets, a use that would require purchase of land in addition to the airport site. The mayor has said he would like to see an industrial park as part of the plans.

State aeronautics officials have said they believe the airport would be ideal for Collinsville, Nichols says the same thing.

The only other possible contender for the airport would be Granite City, although Nichols negates this possibility, noting that community's lack of interest in the past.

When municipalities are involved in owning airports, the federal government pays 90 percent of the cost of acquisition and development. The state pays 5 percent, leaving the city to pick up the remaining 5 percent.

THIS FUNDING is not available to private owners such as Nichols.

The airport proposal has not yet even been brought to the Collinsville City Council for discussion, although this was scheduled to occur soon.

Brombolich now says it may never happen if the timing problem is not resolved.

The mayor had asked a local firm to prepare cost estimates before the council took up the airport issue. The firm then learned from the state that federal money would not be available before the deadline stated by Nichols.

Brombolich said a layout plan for the airport would cost approximately $50,000; he said he definitely would not ask for city funds to pay for the plan.

Even if federal funds were available after July, the application process would probably be lengthy, the mayor noted. "Nobody could meet the time restraints he (Nichols) is asking."

A meeting with Nichols will be arranged soon to determine whether his deadline on a decision could be extended, Brombolich said.

NICHOLS TOLD a reporter that high taxes on the airport property are the main reason he gave a July deadline. He said he would like a decision even earlier than that.

If he plows up the land for farming, the assessed valuation, and his taxes, will be considerably lower, he said.

Another choice has also presented itself: He has been asked to break up the airport property for projects eyed by interested developers.

Nichols said his first preference for the land is for it to remain an airport, owned by Collinsville.

He said he believes that, if the state really wants the airport retained, it will find a way to bypass the present lack of federal funds.

"IT'S A MATTER of whether the city and state can get together," he said.

Nichols, who is 68, says he doesn't want to wait for several years to receive proceeds from sale of the property. "But I'd like to see it as an airport ... I'd like to see Collinsville get it."

Candidate screening by labor leaders announced

The Tri-City Trades and Labor Council screening committee will interview candidates for city offices throughout the Quad-City area on Saturdays, Feb. 23 and March 2 from 9 a.m. to noon.

Each candidate is being invited to attend one of the sessions and interview for the endorsement or organized labor in the area.

The 15-member screening committee is made up of presidents and business agents of the various locals in the area. They were appointed during a meeting of the Executive Board last week.

The Executive Board also decided that this year's Labor Day Parade will use the same route as in past years. All union locals are being urged to make plans to march in the parade.

Groups wishing to enter floats are being asked to make reservations by calling 877-4330 as soon as possible.

Arrested twice in one day, released

Stephen P. Waltemate, 23, of 212 Wilson Park Lane, arrested twice in one day on different charges, was released from custody last week after paying a total of $453 bail, pending a court appearance.

The incidents started when Robert Stephens, who lives on Wilson Park Drive, said Waltemate was driving ahead of his car and kept braking his vehicle in front of him while both autos were heading north on Indiana Avenue.

The braking action caused Stephens to swerve his car to avoid having an accident with Waltemate, who then made gesture and drove away.

At the intersection of Indiana and St. Paul avenues, the same action occurred again with Waltemate then getting out of his auto, opening Stephens' car door and allegedly striking Stephens' nose with his fist.

Waltemate also allegedly grabbed an ice scraper and punched a hole in the canvas top of Stephens' convertible before leaving the scene, it was alleged.

Officers went to Waltemate's house and when told he was under arrest, Waltemate allegedly went into the basement. He returned to the front door and began yelling and using obscene language and then ran back to a basement bedroom.

Waltemate was taken into custody, but tried to break free as he was being escorted upstairs, it was alleged, and he was charged with battery, criminal damage to property and resisting a police officer. He was freed about five hours later upon posting a $300 cash bond.

Twenty minutes after his release, police were called back to the Waltemate's residence, where he was allegedly yelling and screaming at a relative. He also had kicked a hole in the kitchen wall and began tearing up furniture in the basement, it was reported.

Complaints were signed by his mother and Waltemate again was arrested on charges of criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct. He was released the following day on an additional $152 cash bond.

Fined for indecency

James Miller, 20, of 2546 Grand Ave. was fined $150 and was placed under one-year supervision last week after agreeing to undergo counseling. He was linked to an incident of public indecency in late January and to two later public indecency charges, filed Feb. 6 when he exposed himself at the intersection of 25th and State streets. Women motorists were the complainants.

CENSUS SURVEY IN

AREA NEXT WEEK

The Census Bureau will collect current unemployment data for this area the week of February 18 to 23, according to Marvin Postma, director of the Census Bureau's Kansas regional office.

The regional data will contribute to February's national unemployment picture to be released on March 8 by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS). The January data became available Feb. 1.

The Census Bureau's monthly Current Population Survey includes a national sample of about 71,000 households and is sponsored by BLS primarily to gather employment and unemployment data. Information supplied by individuals surveyed is kept confidential by law. Only statistical totals are published.

The survey showed a national civilian unemployment rate of 7.2 percent in December 1984, which meant that 107.9 million workers out of a labor force of 116.2 million had jobs. The revised November rate was 7.1 percent and October's was 7.3 percent. The December total unemployment rate including the military was 7.1 percent.

WINTER HAZARD #3

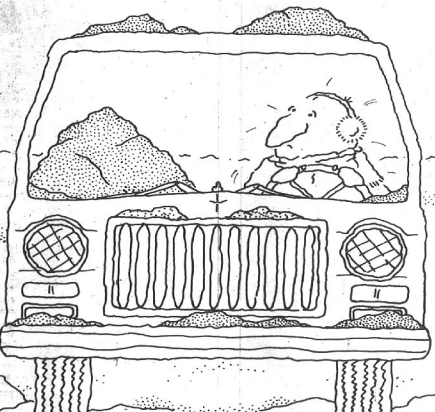

SALT

Each winter, vast mountains of salt are distributed - corrosive granule by corrosive granule - across miles of treacherously slippery roads. You get where you want to go, but your car pays the price. Those same salt granules that so helpfully melt away ice and snow move on to feast on your car's various parts. It's not a pretty sight. Why not take the easiest solution around? The bus. It's inexpensive and gets you lots of places you need to go. Remember: you'll keep off the rust if you just ride the bus.

Church Women forum offers six focus sessions

Drawing upon experiences shared at Church Women United's 1984 Biennial Assembly last summer, at Purdue University, the local unit of Church Women United will present its Spring Forum on Thursday, Feb. 14th, from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at St. Peter United Church of Christ, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard, will be the host church.

for the forum entitled, "Come, Build A New Earth, Pleases To Peace." Women from St. Peter U.S.C. will also provide fruit and cheese refreshments during a brief morning break. Joyce Schrader and Nona Corzilius are co-chairmen of the event.

Included in the forum will be an assembly video tape, "Peacemaking Together," a documentary of the 1984 Purdue Assembly featuring highlights of plenary speakers, dedication of "the ribbon," focus sessions, prayer vigil, singing of the international choir, and more.

Using one feature of the assembly, the forum will offer a choice of six focus sessions where participants will be confronted with the issue she chooses, empowered to make informed decisions about her own involvement, helped in using her commitment to seek solutions, and given the confidence that will enable her to move ahead towards responsible action. Participants will also contribute the enrichment of their own backgrounds and experience to the groups, according to the chairmen.

Topics to be explored in the focus sessions include: Aging: Pleases for Growth/Development within a society filled with violence, fear, discord and frustration? How do existing political, economic and cultural conditions affect the task of building peace? What skills are needed to pursue alternatives? Betty "Kick" Supp, a member of her denomination's peacemaking task force and of several area peace and justice groups will explore this issue.

Poverty: Who are the poor? Why is poverty on the rise? Does the "do-it-yourself" ethic of American economics temper society's willingness to take care of its neediest members? Maxine Rutter of the Salvation Army will share her long-time first hand experiences serving the needy in this community.

Wellsprings: A series of Bible studies designed to be used by small groups to discover implications of the Christian faith for living in a rapidly changing, complex society as a part of the global community. Gordon of Granite City, and former Wellspring choir of the C.W.U. state board will lead this group.

Chairmen for the forum, Mrs. Schrader and Mrs. Corzilius and th Quad-City President of C.W.U., Ola Jones, invites all area Christian women to join the charge for the forum, they added.

President of the local unit of C.W.U. and active in local and national Hunger, Peace, and Justice groups.

They will perform "Zadok the Priest," by George Fredric Handel, whose 400th birthday is being celebrated during this year.

After intermission oboist Jill Russell and dancer Donna Smith will be featured in a work commissioned by the Chorale: Lloyd Prautsch's "Instruments of Peace," based on the Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi. Mark Buske, percussionist will be featured in Alice Parker's "Psalm of Praise." The program concludes with spirituals and folk songs: "Animal's a-comin'" arranged by Marshall Bartholomew (men's voices), "Shenandoah," arranged by James Erb, and one of the Chorale's long time favorite's "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel," by William Dawson.

The Madison County Community Development Department is the local administering agency for the HWAP Program. It is anticipated that approximately 25 households will be served during this program year.

CONDUCT AND BATTERY CHARGES ARE FILED

Gloria M. Ballentine, 36, of 1401 Iowa St., was charged with conduct and disorderly conduct at 9 p.m. Friday when arrested in the 1700 block of Edison Avenue. She was released two hours later after posting $154 cash bail.

Police were called to a disturbance at the apartment of Keith and Mary Valenzuela, 1738 Edison Ave., where Mrs. Ballentine and her husband, John, came to inquire about a relative.

Meridian Ballroom. But even with the expanded space, many stood throughout the one-hour forum.

SURPRISE AT THE SIZE OF THE TURNOUT was voiced by Simon. Some of those wishing to ask questions could not be accommodated and were asked to submit their concerns in writing for a future response.

Handling all questions that were given over microphones, Simon took stands on such issues as tuition tax credits, which he opposes, and legal abortions, which he favors under some circumstances. In all cases, he presented additional comments to emphasize his awareness of both sides of such controversies.

While he was here, Senate leaders in Washington were vying to place him on the Judiciary Committee and the Labor and Human Resources Committee. The latter handles education, one of his main interests, and he again stressed at the town meeting the importance of U.S. students learning foreign languages.

GRANITE CITY and the nation have developed too much dependence on heavy industries like steel, which due to new technology may never again match the number of jobs they once provided, Sen. Simon said.

He foresees increased training and retraining programs in cooperation with SIUE, the Belleville Area College, and Clark colleges and public and parochial schools.

Simon defended Social Security but said some curbs must be considered on existing federal approaches, such as the tax exemption on municipal bonds.

ASSAILING BUDGET request for a 13 percent defense increase, the new senator remarked, "You can't let your children buy every toy in the store, and you can't let the generals and admirals buy every weapon."

The former Army non-commissioned officer, who once edited the Troy Tribune, agreed that some federal pensions are excessive and urged that all new enlistees after Jan. 1, 1986, be required to serve 25 or 30 years before retiring. He opposed the so-called "star wars" anti-missile proposal as too costly, ineffective and destabilizing. Simon predicted that federal revenue sharing will continue.

Attempt vehicle thefts in Venice

Attempts apparently were made to steal three vehicles parked outside Venice residences. It was reported during the weekend.

Laund Butkin, 1014 College Ave., Venice, said at 12:05 a.m. Sunday that someone got into his 1979 Mercury sedan while it was parked in front of his house and punched the lock on the steering column. The would-be thief also broke open the glove compartment, the owner said.

Icy roads cause traffic mishaps

About 13 minor traffic accidents occurred Saturday night and early Sunday in Granite City primarily due to an icy glaze covering city streets.

Madison thoroughfares remained fairly clear of the ice glaze, which caused problems for drivers in Granite City and motorists on major highways in the Illinois-Missouri bistate region, a Madison officer noted Sunday.

Illinois State Police said Sunday that numerous "fender benders" type mishaps were handled by troopers, but no serious accidents were noted in the immediate vicinity of Quad City area.

Fred D. Trebing Jr., of 1824 Sixth St., Madison, sustained an injury at 2:25 a.m. Sunday while traveling south on Briarcliff Drive when his 1975 Chrysler slid on ice, causing him to lose control and strike a utility pole near 137 Briarcliff. Reports said Trebing was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Two persons were injured at 2:45 a.m. Sunday when an auto operated by Daniel E. Shemwell, 25, of Rural Route Two, Box 794, heading south in the 1500 block of Old Alton Road, skidded on ice and slid sideways into another car.

Denise M. Buckingham, 29, of 10 Watertown Circle, said she stopped for a car in front of her auto and was putting her vehicle into four-wheel drive when hit from the rear by the Shemwell auto.

A passenger in the Buckingham vehicle, DeAnna Theis, 19, of 2147 Lee Ave., suffered an injury and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Shemwell also was injured, reports said.

Venice man turns himself in Linroy L. "Spookey" Sanford, 26, of 172 Viola Court, Venice, was charged with a charge of armed robbery and four traffic offenses. Sanford surrendered to Madison police last week.

The armed robbery charges were in connection with a robbery that took place Jan. 27 outside of the El Capaloro Lounge, 800 Jackson St., Madison.

The traffic offenses included driving with a suspended license, improper use of a license plate, passing a stop sign and running over a fire hose.

In an appearance in court Friday morning, Sanford pleaded innocent to all of the charges. He was fined $75 for driving with a suspended license and $50 each for the other three traffic violations. His bond was set at $100,000.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

What happens if one spouse takes certain marital property and sells it with full knowledge that a divorce is about to take place? Frequently a husband or wife comes to this office complaining that the other spouse sold a car or cashed in a Certificate of Deposit and spent the money foolishly. This is known as "dissipation" of marital assets. What can the spouse who suffers a loss do in this situation?

Illinois law directs the Court to consider the dissipation of property by each spouse when dividing marital assets. Dissipation is defined as "the use of marital property for the sole benefit of one of the spouses at the time that the marriage is undergoing a breakdown." If the Court finds that there has been dissipation of marital assets, it is within the discretion of the Court to make an adjustment in the ultimate division of the property.

In one recent case, a husband was found by the trial court to have dissipated $50,000 in marital assets, included in this total was money realized from the sale of a parcel of real estate valued at $14,000. The husband did not deposit the money into any bank account, but rather spent it on himself. He gave none of the proceeds from this sale to his wife.

In this same case, the husband also cashed in four Certificates of Deposit totalling $40,000. He was unable to account for $32,700 received from these certificates, and therefore the Court included this amount in the "dissipation." The Court noted that there was a general principle that the person charged with the dissipation is under an obligation to establish by clear evidence how the funds were spent. General statements by the spouse who converted the funds that the funds were spent on marital expenses or to pay bills will not be sufficient to avoid a finding by the Court of dissipation.

What is the remedy in the case of dissipation of assets? Usually, the Court will distribute the remaining property in such a way as to make an adjustment to the spouse who suffered the loss. In the case discussed above, the husband received approximately 37% of the remainder of the estate and the wife received 63% of the marital property. The Court divided the property this way to offset the previous dissipation of assets by the husband.

Applications taken for home weatherization air

Nelson Hagauer, chairman of the Madison County Board, is announcing that Madison County has been awarded FY '85 funds under the Illinois Home Weatherization Assistance Program.

Hagauer announced that the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs had awarded it a grant of $468,306 to administer the FY '85 Weatherization Program for Madison County.

The Madison County Community Development Department is the local administering agency for the HWAP Program. It is anticipated that approximately 25 households will be served during this program year.

Households meeting the following maximum income criteria will be considered for assistance. Income Eligibility Guidelines are: Family of One, $6,225; family of two, $8,480; three, $10,750; four, $12,750; five, $14,925; six, $17,100; seven, $19,275; eight, $21,450.

Families with more than eight members may add $2,175 for each additional member. In addition to providing documentation regarding the income eligibility criteria, other factors also are considered. The unit to be weatherized must be structurally sound and cannot have been previously addressed through this weatherization program. Also, if the unit to be weatherized is a rental unit, the landlord must approve of the work to be performed and grant permission for the unit to be weatherized. Persons wishing to apply for weatherization assistance should contact their township supervisor's office.

Madison County Community Development will take and process applications from any interested applicants who reside in Madison County. Any interested person not served will be placed on a waiting list for future consideration.

Persons having general questions regarding the Weatherization Program may contact the Madison County Weatherization Office at 1-855-6390 or the state of Illinois Energy Hotline at 1-800-252-8643.

CONDUCT AND BATTERY CHARGES ARE FILED

Gloria M. Ballentine, 36, of 1401 Iowa St., was charged with conduct and disorderly conduct at 9 p.m. Friday when arrested in the 1700 block of Edison Avenue. She was released two hours later after posting $154 cash bail.

Police were called to a disturbance at the apartment of Keith and Mary Valenzuela, 1738 Edison Ave., where Mrs. Ballentine and her husband, John, came to inquire about a relative.

Officers said loud and obscene rhetoric could be heard and Mrs. Valenzuela, whose lip was bleeding from being struck by Mrs. Ballentine. The latter's arrest followed.

Meridian Ballroom. But even with the expanded space, many stood throughout the one-hour forum.

SURPRISE AT THE SIZE OF THE TURNOUT was voiced by Simon. Some of those wishing to ask questions could not be accommodated and were asked to submit their concerns in writing for a future response.

Handling all questions that were given over microphones, Simon took stands on such issues as tuition tax credits, which he opposes, and legal abortions, which he favors under some circumstances. In all cases, he presented additional comments to emphasize his awareness of both sides of such controversies.

While he was here, Senate leaders in Washington were vying to place him on the Judiciary Committee and the Labor and Human Resources Committee. The latter handles education, one of his main interests, and he again stressed at the town meeting the importance of U.S. students learning foreign languages.

GRANITE CITY and the nation have developed too much dependence on heavy industries like steel, which due to new technology may never again match the number of jobs they once provided, Sen. Simon said.

He foresees increased training and retraining programs in cooperation with SIUE, the Belleville Area College, and Clark colleges and public and parochial schools.

Simon defended Social Security but said some curbs must be considered on existing federal approaches, such as the tax exemption on municipal bonds.

ASSAILING BUDGET request for a 13 percent defense increase, the new senator remarked, "You can't let your children buy every toy in the store, and you can't let the generals and admirals buy every weapon."

The former Army non-commissioned officer, who once edited the Troy Tribune, agreed that some federal pensions are excessive and urged that all new enlistees after Jan. 1, 1986, be required to serve 25 or 30 years before retiring. He opposed the so-called "star wars" anti-missile proposal as too costly, ineffective and destabilizing. Simon predicted that federal revenue sharing will continue.

Leon Russell shines during Stages show

By PATRICK FOLEY
of the Press Record

Energy.
From his first chord of the evening to the last note of the performance, Leon Russell radiated an exuberance of energy to his audience that is rare at rock concerts today.

The Stages crowd last week rarely knew what to expect when the "master of space and time" weaved from gospel to blues to rock to country, mixing old standards in from time to time.

Opening the 1½-hour show with Prince's "Purple Rain," he caught the audience off guard with a rendition of the song's refrain, but they were quick to appreciate this "old rockers'" flexibility.

Now nearly 43 years old, his birthday is April 2, Russell has gone through many changes in his music, never forgetting his roots. While still a teenager, his first big break professionally came when Jerry Lee Lewis recognized his talent and made him a part of his band. That was in 1958. Since then he has bounced from one style of music to another, always taking along his screeching voice which has become one of his trademarks.

His band, consisting of one guitar, a bass, two percussionists, and a backup singer, helped with many of the songs, but several were more of a distraction from Russell than a help. Particularly distracting was a female singer whose '60s-style go-go dancing added little to the show.

Rarely moving, except for his lips and fingers, Russell sat at center stage facing his audience. A bright, white spotlight emphasized his long, snowy white hair and beard topped by a black cowboy hat. And with a solo encore the only exception, wearing mirrored sunglasses which reflected the spotlight back into the crowd as he sang.

Other selections performed included a Rolling Stones classic "Wild Horses," the "Tennessee Waltz," "Jambalaya," a Hank Williams tune, "Goodtime Charlie," "Amazing Grace" and "Roller Beethoven," a Chuck Berry classic.

Of course there were a couple of songs that a Leon Russell concert would not be complete without — his own "Rolling in my Sweet Baby's Arms" and the solo encore of "A Song for You."

The show was produced by AMK & Associates, a small production company from St. Louis, but the evening went off without an apparent hitch, except for a rather long wait for the opening act.

The Bel Airs, a rhythm and blues group from Columbia, Mo., got the crowd on its feet, especially those who took advantage of the dance floor. AMK made a very good pick when it booked the group for the performance.

A member of the band said during their set that they will be playing at Mississippi Nights on Laclede's Landing Tuesday night. It's probably safe to say that the crowd there will enjoy their brand of blues and rock as much as the Stages audience did.

BEULAH

THE POPULAR RADIO SHOW BEULAH WAS A SPIN-OFF FROM THE CHARACTER WHO FIRST APPEARED ON FIBBER MCGEE AND MOLLY. FEW LISTENERS WERE AWARE THAT BEULAH, A BLACK MAID, WAS ORIGINALLY PORTRAYED BY A WHITE MAN... MARLIN HURT. (LATER BOB CORLEY TOOK THE ROLE AND WAS FOLLOWED BY HATTIE McDANIEL, LOUISE BEAVERS AND LILLIAN RANDOLPH.)

ON THE FIBBER MCGEE AND MOLLY SHOW, MARLIN HURT STARTLED THE STUDIO AUDIENCE BY STANDING WITH HIS BACK TO THE MIKE AS BEULAH'S ENTRANCE NEARED AND THEN SUDDENLY ON CUE WHIRLING AROUND AND SCREAMING "HER" OPENING LINE.
